Wed 25 Jun 2008

UNICEF Canada presented its inaugural Unite with Art Auction and Gala at the Rocky Mountaineer Station. Gala-goers shelled out $200 a ticket for the spectacular evening of art and advocacy that featured more than 75 donated pieces of work from internationally acclaimed artists including Bill Reid, Fred Herzog and Tiko Kerr. The night's star-studded program included a cocktail reception featuring live entertainment and fabulous fare by the city's finest including Chow, Glowbal Catering, Hawksworth at Hotel Georgia, Metro and Vij's. Chris Jordan's Pain Killers piece garnered the night's top bid of $26,000, which contributed to the evening's final tally of $276,000. Proceeds raised will provide support, care, protection and treatment to millions of children afflicted with HIV/AIDS.
